

Handloom and Handcrafted Accessories and Decor

Longpi Black Pottery

Serving clients across:
USA | Middle East | Europe

About Lamaari

At Lamaari, we believe that luxury lies in authenticity. Inspired by the rich cultural heritage of Assam and Northeast India, our journey began with a simple vision—bringing the soul of handmade craftsmanship to modern homes. With every weave, carve, and knot, we celebrate the skill of artisans who transform natural fibers into timeless treasures.

Welcome to a world where artistry meets purpose.

Where Art Meets Purpose

Luxury isn't just how something looks—it's how it's made, how it lasts, and how it makes you feel.

Utility

Quality

Sustainability

Earth's Silent Song

Shaped without a wheel, fired without glaze—magic molded by hand.

An Empire of Clay

From Manipur's mystical hills, the Tangkhul Naga tribe crafts pottery as bold as their heritage. Using serpentinite rock and river clay, each piece is hand-pressed, sun-baked, and fired to a charcoal gleam.

Year Old Craft 600

A photograph of a Longpi Black Pottery set, including two mugs and a small dish, resting in a woven basket. The pottery is dark and has a matte finish. The basket is made of light-colored woven material. A semi-transparent text box is overlaid on the left side of the image.

Naturally Non-Porous

Perfect for steaming, baking, or brewing.

Sculptural Minimalism

Raw edges meet modern lines.

Thermal Retention

Keeps tea hot and salads cool.

Regal Applications

Kitchen Essentials

Mortars, pots, and serving bowls.

Zen Interiors

Vases and candleholders for mindful spaces.

Beyond Boundaries

Jewelry holders, garden planters, art installations.

600

Year-Old
Craft

0

Wheels or Glazes

100%

Food-Safe

Let Lamaari Become Your Creative Partner in Conscious Luxury

Contact Us

✉ info@lamaari.com

📍 Bangalore & Guwahati, India

Fill this form to start now

SCAN ME

